

Getting Ready for the Tiger Who Came to Tea

Key Info

EYFS & KS1 School Session: History, English

Peterborough Museum has many original household artefacts dating from the Victorian era that children can handle and closely explore. As well as inspiring galleries, we have an original Victorian kitchen from when the building was a hospital. Our 1950s kitchen display blends with the well known and loved Judith Kerr story. Children will use these objects in role play and in-situ, making learning about Homes in the Past more meaningful and immersive.

Learning Objectives:

- To develop understanding of life in the past and how it compares to life today
- To develop a chronological understanding of 19th and 20th Century society
- To demonstrate understanding of what is being read to them
- To develop an awareness of the past, using common words and phrases relating to the passing of time.
- To appreciate that artefacts help us to understand the past.
- To participate in discussions, role-play and improvisations.

Activity 1: Role play in the Victorian Kitchen

How does a Victorian kitchen and household chores compare to kitchens of today? Find out through role-play; dress up, wash and iron clothes, practise your embroidery, beat the rag rug and sit in a bath in front of the range!

Activity 2: The Tiger who Came to Tea

Our 1950s kitchen room set provides the perfect backdrop to this familiar and much-loved story. Can you spot the objects on display as the story is told?

Activity 3: Craft Activity

Make an old fashioned toy to play with or a tiger place mat
